Area and County Farm Earnings High in 1939

Reports on 87 Farms in N. E. Illinois Dairy Area Published

Earnings on 87 farms in the dairy area of northeastern Illinois keeping accounts in cooperation with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture in 1939 reached the highest level since 1936, according to the annual report on these farms.

The report, which was prepared by the university agricultural economics department, is being distributed to each of the 14 cooperating farmers of Lake county this week by Farm Adviser H. C. Gilkerson and P. H. Shuman, of the agricultural economics department.

High crop yields and more livestock, accompanied by increased industrial activity and improved demand for farm products during the last half of 1939, are listed in the report as the principal factors responsible for the higher earnings.

The combined average yields of corn, oats, wheat, and soybeans ranged from 112 per cent of the 10-year average, 1928-1938, in Boone county, to 138 per cent in Kane county. The yields in Lake county averaged 119 per cent as large as during the previous 10-year period. The average increase in livestock numbers, for all accounting farms in the state, from the beginning to the end of the year, 1939, is given in the report as follows: dairy cows, 2 per cent; beef cows, 21; feeder cattle, 17; feeder lambs, 24; brood sows, 4; spring pigs, 38; summer pigs, 23; and fall pigs, 28 per cent.

The report points out that prices for all crops, as well as for beef cattle and sheep, were higher at the end of 1939 than at the beginning. On the other hand the prices of horses, hogs, and poultry were lower at the end than at the beginning of the year.

Despite higher average farm earnings, 30 of the accounting farms lacked $246 each of making enough to pay 5 per cent on the investment and had nothing left for the operator's labor and management. On the other hand, 24 farms made enough money to pay all expenses, including other family labor and 5 per cent on their investments and had $2402 left to pay the operator for his labor and management. Much of the difference in farm earnings, according to Farm Adviser H. C. Gilkerson was because of differences in cropping systems, crop yields, livestock efficiency, labor and machinery costs and other factors over which the individual farmer has some control.

Average figures are given in the report for the principal efficiency factors according to per cent of land tillable, source of income, and size. These figures give standards by which each farmer may compare his farm to his own.

Fifty-nine dairy farms had dairy returns per cow averaging $122, and labor cost per acre averaging $11.12, whereas 12 farms with the least livestock had dairy returns per cow

S. H. Reeves, "Dean of Antioch Business Men," Observes 82nd Birthday

Many friends and well-wishers are today extending their felicitations to S. H. Reeves, veteran Antioch druggist, on his 82nd birthday anniversary. Reeves, who has been given the title of "The dean of Antioch business men," has been in poor health during the past few months, but seems to be improving.

Last Easter people and organizations of the village joined in presenting to him a framed etching and plaque in appreciation of his services to the community.

Reeves does not eat cake, but employees in his store at 901 Main street say he's going to have a birthday cake just the same.

Mr. Reeves was greeted via radio broadcast Tuesday by Bob Elson, acc sports announcer.

Said Elson while broadcasting the Cubs-Giants game: "My old friend, S. H. Reeves, 82 years old, out at Antioch is listening to today's ball game. Mr. Reeves has been ill, we are sorry to say."

Dwight H. Green Will Attend Annual Young Republican Outing

The Lake County Young Republican Outing on the estate of L. E. Leverone, Deerfield, to be held Sunday, July 21st, will be the occasion for a warm Republican reception for Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor. This will be Mr. Green's first appearance in Lake county since his nomination on the Republican ticket in the April primary.

William M. Marks of Lake Villa, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee, will introduce Mr. Green on this occasion.

The success of last year's outing on Mr. Leverone's estate and his invitation to make this an annual Young Republican event has resulted in the present plans. The Leverone estate consists of more than 200 acres in Vernon township lying on the east bank of the Des Plaines river. A large portion of the estate has been beautifully landscaped and cultivated; while the heavily wooded section has been left in its natural state. There is a large private lake where the Young Republicans may enjoy bathing and there are facilities for almost every conceivable outdoor activity.

"Louie" Leverone is a tireless host and Mrs. Leverone is a charming hostess. Their open grills will be ready for broiling the steaks which will be on the menu. There will be fresh garden vegetables, too. It has been announced that there will be no speeches. Among the activities which are on the program are softball, swimming, croquet, horseshoes, egg throwing, ping pong, and a variety of free games of skill.

The outing is sponsored by the Lake County Federation of Young Republicans and tickets may be obtained from local Young Republican leaders. The outing, which is not free, is nevertheless open to the public.

Mrs. Anna Brown, Salem Twp., Dies

Funeral services will be held in the Methodist church at Salem Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Anna May Brown, 78, who died Tuesday at her home in Salem township. The Rev. Ernest Kistler is to officiate at the service, which will be followed with interment at Liberty Corners cemetery. The body was removed from Strang's Funeral parlors in Antioch to the home yesterday, and will be there until the time of the service.

Mrs. Brown was born Anna May Cull, Sept. 17, 1862. She was the daughter of W. V. and Harriet Cull, pioneer settlers in Brighton township, Kenosha county. During the past 52 years she lived in Salem township.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Arthur (Helen) Bushing, and three grandchildren, Arthur Bushing, Jr., Fred Bushing, and Kenneth Brown. Two brothers, W. V. Cull of Salem township and A. L. Cull of Oakland, Neb., survive.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Ira Brown, and by a son, Fred.

Mrs. Brown had been in ill health for the past three weeks.

Mrs. George Garland returned Saturday after a very satisfactory check-up at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn.

Local "Soap Box Derby" to Highlight Fete

Youngsters Will Have Their Day at Lions Club Festival August 9-11

Antioch's first soap box derby will be run here on Friday afternoon, August 9, in connection with the annual Lions club festival. Youngsters entering in the derby will be competing for valuable prizes offered by the club, according to Elmer Rentner, chairman of the derby committee, who is receiving the entries and making arrangements necessary to make the contest a success. There is no limit as to age of contestants. The contest is open to girls as well as boys and there will be no entry fee. Contestants must have built their own soap box autos, in order to qualify for the races, but they may receive help in their construction, Rentner said. Rules similar to those governing the All American soap box derby will apply to the local derby, committee members say, and these will be announced within the next few days.

The race course, it is thought, will be on Orchard street, and the starting ramp will be placed at the west terminal of the street, making the finish line near the Festival grounds at the village park.

Gets Many Inquiries

Many inquiries are being received regarding the derby, Rentner says, and he is gaining considerable experience in such projects through his sponsorship of six young entries from Fox River Grove in the soap box derby to be held in Chicago July 30, a sectional preliminary to the All American derby to be held in Akron, Ohio, in August under the sponsorship of America's leading newspapers and Chevrolet Motor Division.

Other free attractions for each afternoon and evening of the Festival on August 9, 10 and 11, are being arranged by the entertainment committee. As an innovation the committee has secured some unique devices for rides that have not been seen in Lake county.

"Midsummer Fete" to be Sponsored by Petite Lake Group

Announce Program to be Held at Ireland's August 3

An enticing program is being planned for the "Midsummer Party" to be sponsored by the Petite Lake Improvement association Saturday, Aug. 3, on the grounds and in the building at Ireland's Lone Oak Inn on Highway 59.

Arnold Thompson, horse shoe pitcher, will be one of the stellar attractions.

Thompson, who is billed as "one of the world's best truck horse shoe pitchers," is appearing in person through the courtesy of the ale and beer manufacturing company he represents.

He will perform feats of trick pitching such as making ringers through hoops, knocking a bag from a partner's head, ringing chair legs, lighting matches at the stake, knocking a cigar from a partner's mouth, pitching over a blanket without seeing a stake, and putting a ringer over a glass bowl of gold fish.

Cards and dancing are to be other features in the evening, and refreshments will be available at moderate prices.

George Bellock is chairman of the committee for the affair.

"Lake Villa Days" Will be Observed August 2, 3 and 4

Set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 2, 3 and 4, the eighth annual observance of "Lake Villa Days" promises plenty of entertainment in the community four miles south of Antioch on Highway 21.

The Lake Villa Fire department is sponsoring the celebration, which is to be open to the general public and is expected to draw visitors from considerable distances.

Free dancing and ball games will be among the features. Additional entertainment is planned, refreshments will be available, and cash prizes of various sorts are being planned.

"Chiefly U. S."

Vacations are a typically American activity. No other nation makes such a point of them. In fact, if you look in the dictionary at the word you'll find a little notation after one definition which reads simply: "Chiefly U. S."

Americans have built up a system where they can produce a lot of goods and services and still find time for the joys and pleasures of life. We now spend close to ten billion dollars a year just for amusement and recreation. And we have the time as well as the opportunity to have holiday fun. In industry, for example, one out of every three working hours has become leisure time since 1890.

It makes an appealing picture in this, the "good old summer time"—millions of men, women, and children at the beach, in the mountains, driving around in their cars exploring the country. It's something not matched in any other part of the world. And it's part of the American pattern—made possible by our business habits and abilities and based upon our traditional freedoms—a pattern we'll do well to preserve!

Agriculture and "Isms"

The advocates of alien "isms" work in many fields. And one of those fields, in the opinion of Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association of New York, is agriculture.

Mr. Sexauer pointed to the radical-inspired strikes which have occurred in the New York milk shed in recent years. Communists, he said, "ran the show," and openly boasted of it. And a few non-Communist farmers were taken in by clever camouflage.

Matters such as this may seem of small significance—but they are all part of the "fifth column" drive to disrupt and destroy the America that we know. We all must be on our guard. And agriculture, along with the rest of us, must fight in defense of the democratic traditions which are being assailed throughout the world.

In the American Mould

The Republican party has fulfilled its obligation to the nation by nominating Wendell Willkie for President. It was a universal hope that this year the convention would be free of pressure groups, free of "back room" influence, and free of machine control. That hope has been fully realized. Mr. Willkie is that rare individual, a candidate without commitments. He refused to temper his views in the slightest to the political winds. He was completely frank as to his position on every issue, and never stooped to evasion or took refuge in silence. He was, in the best sense of the word, a people's candidate—a man whose support came from the average men and women of America, not from political bosses with their eyes fixed on jobs and power and patronage.

The record of Wendell Willkie is one of which every American, no matter what his partisan allegiance, can be proud. It is the typically American story of the man who, starting from humble beginnings, succeeds through his own work, his own abilities, his own gifts of mind and character and personality. Mr. Willkie, like so many of our industrial and governmental leaders, came up the hard way. He knows the real America—the America of modest homes, the America whose faith in democratic processes has never been shaken, the America which reveres our traditional liberties above all else.

The great principles for which Wendell Willkie stands are the principles of liberalism—the faith that is America. He has made many speeches and written many articles. And all of them, basically, deal with one issue. That issue is the American way of life. It is the age-long issue of man against the state—of liberty fighting for its life against some kind of collectivism. What Wendell Willkie abhors most is dictatorship—no matter what form it appears in, or what honeyed words are used to conceal its true meaning and intent. And he is one of the fortunate few with a personality which makes it possible for him to dramatize his convictions.

Mr. Willkie is a candidate in the finest American mould—a candidate with greatness of mind and heart and spirit.

The Observer

The New Dealers are wasting a lot of time rigging up a party platform at the Chicago convention. They have a platform, unused and good as new, left over from the convention of 1932—you know, the one that proposed a cut of 25% in governmental expenses, and many other measures that were completely forgotten after the election.

The Democratic national convention in Chicago this week offers an excellent opportunity for New Dealers to let off steam—said steam thus far being much back-slapping for the chief executive who, apparently, "owns" the convention. . . . "Sanitary" Ed Kelly, who is also mayor of the city of Chicago, got small response from the delegates and the galleries when he launched the "third term" boom during his address of welcome. . . . Kelly's eulogy of the president sounded like the wail of a martyr about to be burned at the stake. Nevertheless, the inner circle boys and girls are doing their utmost to keep themselves on the payroll by getting FDR back in the White House. Forty per cent of the delegates are on the nation's payroll—a neat piece of strategy on the part of the chief who wanted policies adjoined (by the Republicans) during the national crisis. . . . After all, a good bunk-shooter can heap a lot of praise on someone, especially if he's getting paid for it.

Seen on Highway 173 at Channel Lake Monday afternoon—a small black dog racing valiantly after a "pick-up truck" loaded with children and progressing Antioch-ward. We were tempted to give him a lift in our auto till he caught up with them. Especially when we noticed how sagaciously he followed the side of the road instead of the dangerous center of the concrete, and how good-naturedly he stopped for a "breather" every once in a while.

That impulse to cross roads that seems to dwell in the hearts of chickens also appears to motivate pheasants. Bowling along most any quiet country road around Antioch, you'll see a few of these supposedly shy birds casually parading across the right-of-way—and always ju-n-st barely managing to get across (thank heaven) before you get there.

We see by the papers—"Tavern Keeper Donates Iron Lung to County"—headline. What's the matter, is he going to stop serving zombies at his place?—Arch Ward's Wake of the News col. Chi. Trib. Must be some refreshments, then, for zombies. Maybe we oughta drop over to Herman's resort some time, in the interests of scientific research, and see.

HOSPITAL STARTS SQUIRREL SEASON It's an open season on squirrels today at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest.

Might be easier than quarantining 'em, at that.

Houston (NEA)—Texas, producer of oil, tough hoppers, and the world's most beautiful girls (adv't.), is now cradling a new dance which will, according to the loyal sons of the Lone Star State, take the nation's jitterbugs like Hitler took Paris.

It hides its delight under the mouthful of moniker: "La Vassorianna" or "Put Your Little Foot," or, if you are in a great hurry, just plain "Little Foot."

Just when we were beginning to wonder what, if anything, would come after the jitterbugs.

NEIGHBORS HELP AT FARM HAYING

Neighborhood hands came to the assistance of A. G. Clark of Gurnee last week when it came time to do his haying. Clark had suffered a broken arm three weeks ago and was not able to handle the haying job, so Scott Miller, Ernie Peyer, Leslie Bonner, Frank Pitchman, Harry Herrick and their men pitched in and did the work. Clark is married and has one child.

A cheering note in these times when there is a lot of news, and practically all of it bad, is this little reminder that the neighborliness of early pioneer days hasn't quite passed away.

THROW PRISONERS INTO 'BEAR CAGE'

Frankfort, Ind. (AP)—Instead of being "in the dog house," it's "in the bear cage" now.

News note from Racine—

Along the lake shore in Racine and Kenosha counties are acre after acre of lush cabbage fields that place these counties among the largest cabbage producers in the United States. But in the midst of this vast bounty stands a sight that provoked cabbage growers to a speechless indignation. There, being unloaded on a railroad siding, is a car of Virginia cabbage imported by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation for families on relief.

"Wolves in the Windy City"

By Edward Doherty

It may be asked why Councilor Goldstein should have been going to Waukegan when his clients so sorely needed him in Chicago. Well, that's quite a story in itself. It appears that somebody whom he represented had opened a club in Lake County, which the Waukegan Sun, under the direction of Frank Just, attacked as a gambling house.

Efforts were made to shush Mr. Just, according to Mr. Just. The sum of $200,000 was offered him, he claimed. That seems a lot of money, but it's Just's story, not mine. He indignantly refused the offer; and one day, while he wasn't looking, a rival newspaper was established in Waukegan—the Waukegan Post. The plant and the equipment had been bought for cash. Just got busy, and managed to get a list of the new paper's subscribers. Every one of them was a gambler, a fixer, a museler, a horseman of some kind, or a captain of the Chicago police force.—Liberty Mag., July 27, p. 24.

They forgot to mention the Antioch News, which gets it along with the Sun through Uncle Sam's impartial post office service, and reads both publications with considerable interest, to see what they're going to "sponsor" next.

Swedish "Angel" to Meet Von Schacht in Grayslake Arena

Friday's Results

Referee Lou Gordon disqualified Rudy Kay and gave the verdict to Jim McMillen in the windup bout at Peg's arena Friday night. After putting on a rough fracas for 52 minutes, Kay was kicked out of the ring to appear through the ropes again with a huge stone which he was attempting to bounce off the Antioch star's head, when the referee stopped the bout and declared McMillen the winner.

"Legs" Grubmier polished off Paul Bozzell with a scissors hold in 22 minutes of the semi-final. Bert Rubi pinned Cecil McGill in 26 minutes, and Marshall George won over Doc McKenzie in the opening preliminary.

FRIDAY'S CARD

The Swedish Angel vs. Friedrich von Schacht.

Chief Oslo Sanookie vs. Rudy Kay.

Paul Bozzell vs. Bert Rubi.

Cecil McGill vs. Al Williams.

Bar the doors . . . lock the windows . . . stay out of the streets after dark, the world's most frightful human is coming to Lake county. He's science's latest guinea pig, a modern "throw-back" to the Neanderthal type whose veneer of civilization is so thin, that he shows through in the form of a cave-man.

He's The Swedish Angel, and he's coming here to wrestle Friedrich von Schacht, giant German heavy-weight star, in the main event of an all-star heavyweight wrestling card in Peg's Grayslake arena.

The Angel, who has been causing a furor of excitement among anthropologists since his arrival here, is constructed along the same general contours as the French Angel who wrestled in Waukegan last winter. The Swedish freak, however, is nearly a foot taller and is said to be even uglier.

Get out the tape measure and compare his measurements with your own, in case you don't agree with the theory of evolution. Weight, 235 pounds; head flat-across, 9 inches; reach, 80 inches; chest normal, 50 inches; expanded, 54 inches; head tip to top, 14 inches. What's more, they say he really can wrestle, and is even more powerful than these remarkable measurements would indicate.

In the other bouts rough Rudy Kay returns to tackle Chief Sanookie in the semi-windup in a match that should be a real thriller. Bert Rubi, Al Williams and others complete the all-star card of four bouts.

Local promoters announce no advance in prices and as usual, ladies with escorts will be admitted free of charge in the ringside sections.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY ROGER SHAW

F. D.'s Personality Dominates 1940 Democratic Convention; No U. S. Troops for Europe

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Right up to convention time, Franklin D. Roosevelt kept the country guessing on third term plans. The Democratic National Convention, meeting in Chicago, however, felt at all times the weight of the President's personality. The sketch herewith is by the famous artist, Helge Sahlin.

II GERMAN WAR: Ships & Planes

Germany and England continued to blast one another from the air, with footling gallantry. Germany slowly seemed to be establishing supremacy of numbers, although her pilots were sometimes too young, and not equal on the whole to the veteran regulars who made up a considerable portion of the royal air force: the R. A. F.

In the Mediterranean sea, the English and French and Italian fleets continued to skirmish, off North Africa, off West Africa, off Greece. Some of the French ships were surrendered to the British navy, others were sunk or disabled. Demobilized French flyers were joining up again, this time to help the Italian airman bomb British Gibraltar. There were naval clashes between the Italian and British seamen, who already had eliminated seven of the eight French capital warships. The 43,000-ton "He de France"—that French luxury liner so well known in America—was seized by the British at Singapore, England's No. 1 naval base in the Far East, in the Malay peninsula. The best French warship—35,000 tons—was knocked out by a British motorboat, which artfully dropped a depth bomb near the stern. The victim was the famous Richelieu.

NO U. S. TROOPS: But Billions for Defense

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt emphatically told congress we would send no man to European wars, but would only seek to defend the western hemisphere. Towards this end he asked for billions of dollars. This presidential statement to congress tended to match the "peace" plank in the Republican campaign platform, and might have removed one of the major issues from the 1940 race.

NAMES ... in the news

Gen. Juan Almazan, Mexican presidential candidate, praised the "success" of the Mexican election, and lauded its small loss of life. There were only 50 killed.

John Dewey, philosopher and educationalist, returned to teach at Columbia university for the first time in 10 years. He is 60 years old, but addressed 1,000 students with all his old steam.

Col. Brehon Somervell, WPA administrator in New York, ripped out four airport murals at Floyd Bennett field in Brooklyn. It had taken four years to paint the four. Obviously, said the rippers, they were red communist propaganda, and so indeed they appeared to be. A pioneer parachute jumper looked suspiciously like Stalin, although the jumper really was Franz Reichelt, an Austrian tailor. (He had been killed, jumping from the French Eiffel tower, back in 1912.) Soviet red stars and Spanish loyalist flyers also appeared in the funniest places.

WHAT A JOB: Re-employed

The luckless duke of Windsor, who used to be King Edward VIII, got another job, at last. They made him governor of the Bahama Islands, 20 of them inhabited, off the southeast coast of Florida. It was a $12,000 annual job, whose main function was to reign over ex-slaves and tourists from the United States. Capital of the Bahamas is Nassau, on New Providence island, where they have a nice beach, and a soloon of merit called "Dirty Dick's." Windsor used to have 500,000,000 people to reign over. Now he has 68,000, plus 6 officers and 124 policemen. Critics said the basic idea was to get him out of Europe, in case the Germans took over England. Hitler, they thought, might oust brother George, and reinstate brother Edward, who is better liked all round. (On the other hand, Queen Elizabeth is much better liked than Duchess Warfield.)

M. PETAIN: Approved

While the British and American newspapers were hammering old Marshal Petain, the saviour of Verdun, who doesn't like Winston Churchill, the Vatican came out and declared that Petain was the best possible man to lead France. The Vatican said that the Marshal inspired French youth, and added that he represented the "best French tradition."

Petain is a good Catholic, and a close friend of the Catholic dictator of Spain, his former pupil, Generalissimo Franco. French General Weygand, who aids Petain in the new Italian-type French government, is also devoutly religious, although Pierre Laval, third member of the Gallic triumvirate, has a non-clerical background. Laval is father-in-law of the official heir of Lafayette. While the Vatican approved, the "new" France got under way. The senate was to be appointed for life, while the chamber was to represent trades, jobs, and occupations, as in the corporative state of Mussolini. Both senate and chamber were to be largely advisory, and trade unions were to be abolished, on the Italian plan.

The professional trade groups, in the chamber, were to take the place of unions, and of political parties as well. The slogan of liberty-equality-fraternity (dating from 1789) was to be supplanted by another trio: labor-family-nation. This, again, was based on the fascist system of Rome. One wit put it like this: "When in Paris, do as the Romans do."

RACIAL: Interesting

One of our foreign commentators raised an interesting point. It was this. He said that although Germans are currently unpopular, for excellent reasons, the American system was still functioning splendidly. To prove his statement, he pointed out that Wendell Willkie was of Germanic family origin. But this did not stop Mr. Willkie, able and magnetic and thoroughly likeable, from becoming the Republican candidate for President of the United States at a hectic time.

Hitler himself, said the commentator, was born in Austria, with only one Germanic parent, and one Czech parent (his mother). But Willkie was born in America, he continued, with two Germanic parents. He concluded that Willkie was a better type of the Germanic stock than the rampant Fuehrer. It was interesting to note, in addition, that our General Pershing's family name was Pfetsching, in the "correct" spelling.

Also, the Roosevelts have a Dutch origin which sometimes is mistaken for German.

III REICH: Complexities

The Hitlerian domain was sorted out into the following, to make its way less confusing, for it covered a lot of ground in several main categories:

1. Hitler himself, plus the Nazi party itself.
 2. Germany, including Austria, the Sudeten, Danzig, Posen, etc.
 3. Protectorates of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Denmark, Luxembourg, Holland, Belgium, of which Denmark is the pet, with the Slovaks, Norse and Dutch next.
 4. Fascist France—half victim, half neutral, a wee bit of an ally.
 5. Italy, an ally, active.
 6. Japan, an ally, passive. Also Spain and Hungary.
 7. Russia, a treaty partner, uncertain. (Russia wants Constantinople.)
 8. Client states of Sweden, Rumania. (Through Sweden and Hungary Germany has army transit rights.) Spain and Rumania might come into the war on the German side.)
- There was much talk about a single currency for Hitler-Europe, to promote "continental" free trade. The U. S. A. now has 80 per cent of the world's gold, $20,000,000,000 of it, and if it was loaned to Hitler-Europe, it would have to open wide its doors to Hitler-European goods. Hitler's "continental" currency, it was suggested, might not be based on gold at all, which would leave Yankee Kentucky out on a limb. Said a foreign statesman: "An axis victory means the end of gold slavery."

Lightning set fire to the large 10-room ice house of the Lawler Ice company at Twin Lakes Monday evening, causing damages estimated at $100,000. Burns on the Coulman farm near Wilmot and the Slocum farm near Roscrans were also struck, and burned to the ground.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, it seems, did not discuss State's Attorney Dady in his sermon Sunday, so people who went there for the express purpose of hearing the promised sermon were disappointed. Mr. Dady did not go personally to the service, but sent his stenographer, who was prepared to take down in short hand anything the speaker might say about Mr. Dady.

Fifty Chicagoans who had come to Lake Zurich Sunday for picnics ended up with one of the most successful mob fights staged in the county for years. According to Deputy John Froelich, there were 20 to 30 men swinging their fists with great gusto in the affair, in which two separate parties of picnickers were involved.

Sheriff Ed Ahlstrom and his deputies played havoc in the moister parts of the wet regions around Fox Lake and Grass Lake Sunday morning, arresting six resort keepers.

Fred Foster is operating his blacksmith shop at Bristol on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. During the remaining days of the week he is at his Trevor shop.

JOB'S REPENTANCE AND RESTORATION

LESSON TEXT—Job 42:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—And the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends.—Job 42:10.

The problem of suffering, like every other question arising in man's inquiring heart, finds its true solution in a right view of God. Job found it to be so. As long as he and his friends concentrated their attention on his person and his troubles, they only became more deeply involved in confusion and doubt. Much of their discussion was on a high moral and philosophical plane, and they were all doubtless earnest and capable men, but in the end Job learned, and they learned through him, that the real difficulty was that they did not know God.

Then God Himself appeared and brought before Job a panorama of the glorious works of God and His blessings upon mankind (chaps. 38-41). Where was Job when the world was created (38:4)? Who holds the world together (38:10)? What is the origin of light (38:12)? What about the glory of the snowflake (38:22)? Job is told to consider the hand of God in the animal kingdom (chap. 39) and upon those that dwell in the sea (chap. 41). It dawned upon Job that he had been arguing against the providences of the all-knowing and all-powerful One—the eternal God. In that conviction and the repentance which it brought forth, he experienced—

I. Renewed Fellowship (vv. 1-6).
Job came to the realization that he had not really known God Himself until now. His religious experiences and convictions hitherto, precious and important as they were, had been by "the hearing of the ear," but now he had met God and all was changed. Fellowship with the Lord was renewed, but on an infinitely higher plane. Job had a real revival in his life which caused him to "abhor" everything that he had said and done; yes, even to set himself aside and to take God to be all and in all.

Our churches are full of people who only know God by hearsay. They have heard about Jesus Christ since their childhood, but they have never met Him. They have read of the Holy Spirit, but they have never known His power. We need a God-sent revival, one like those of the past which "have broken out like fire . . . consuming dead and outworn systems, burning sin like a roaring flame, and casting a new light across men's pathways" (E. L. Douglass).

II. Restored Usefulness (vv. 7-10a).
God's rebuke of Job's friends is significant, for it centers, not in their failure to deal rightly with Job, but their failure properly to represent God. It is a tremendously serious matter to attempt to tell others about God, for in doing so we must not in any way misrepresent Him. To stand before men as religious teachers and leaders and not to know Him so well that we represent Him rightly, is to invite His judgment and condemnation.

Job, on the other hand, was restored to a place of honor and usefulness. His friends, who thought they knew so much more than he about God, are told to ask Job about God. He thus was afforded the opportunity of returning good for evil and was again enabled to serve God in serving his fellow men. Salvation is by faith (Eph. 2:8, 9), but being saved, we are restored to the place of usefulness to God.

III. Returned Prosperity (vv. 10b-13).
The abundant blessing of God upon Job is described in oriental terms of money, herds of cattle, and of a large family. These are the tangible evidences of God's blessing, and even to us today they speak of a liberal and loving God. God can and does prosper His own obedient children even in material things.

Such feebly represent the blessings of the soul, the ultimate and eternal joys of the spirit. They point us, it is true, to the assurance that it is true, to the assurance that as we yield ourselves in unconditioned obedience to God's will, we may confidently trust Him with the dark days of sorrow and affliction, as well as the days of sunshine and prosperity. No matter how tangled may seem the threads on this side of the loom, we know that the heavenly Father behind the scenes is weaving the pattern of beauty which shall one day be revealed as we stand complete in Christ.

Death of Saul
Saul died for his transgression. He transmitted against the word of the Lord which he kept not, and also against counsel of one that had a lying spirit, to enquire of it.—1 Samuel 31:2.

Temptation
resist temptation once is not sufficient proof of honesty.

'Electric Eye' Made 50 Times Keener at U. of I.

A method to increase the keenness of television "eyes" and improve their response to colors has been developed in the electrical research laboratories of the University of Illinois. It involves multiplying the light-sensitivity of a potassium surface as much as 50 times. It also is valuable for the "electric eyes" used by astronomers to measure the light of stars. Also, it may increase the sound quality of movies by reducing background noise and the amount of amplification needed in making the sound audible.

The "electric eye" in common use in recent years was made possible by the work of University of Illinois scientists years ago who showed how to increase the sensitiveness and durability of the original selenium cell.

The new development was carried to completion by Prof. Joseph T. Tykociner, father of the sound-on-film for movies. A patent has been granted.

The method consists of bombarding the light-sensitive potassium surface in a photoelectric cell or "electric eye" with atomic hydrogen and electrons. It may be applied to other alkali metals used for the sensitive surface also, but with less increase in their light-sensitivity.

University of Illinois College of Pharmacy Has 80-Year History

For 80 years the University of Illinois College of Pharmacy has been training men and women to accurately compound prescriptions. It was the first pharmacy school west of the Alleghenies and the third in the nation. Today it is the only recognized school of its kind in the state.

The first class, 80 years ago, met six hours a week for 20 weeks. The courses consisted of lectures by various practicing "druggists." There was no laboratory work.

The 227 students now registered in the college must complete a four-year course of study. Their teachers are experts in the field. The course includes adequate laboratory as well as classroom training.

Candidates for pharmacist's papers also must be credited with four years of service as an apprentice working under the supervision of an experienced registered pharmacist. Then, after passing a stringent state examination, they may be licensed as registered pharmacists and place "R.Ph." after their names.

Training in the University of Illinois College of Pharmacy qualifies the graduates not only to fill prescriptions, but also to enter the research or manufacturing fields of pharmacy. The students learn not only what drugs to use, but why, and how they are prepared.

Old 'Make 'Em Sweat' Idea Out at U. of I.

They've taken the Indian clubs and medicine balls out of the "physical education" classes at the University of Illinois. The old time idea of "making 'em sweat" 30 minutes a day, twice a week, has given way to a "sports curriculum" in which students learn activities they continue outside of class and for years to come.

Ice skating, tennis, bowling, ball and fly casting, swimming, golf, and social dancing are among the popular subjects. The schedule lists 33 different courses for men and 15 for women. These are the general courses, entirely separate from professional courses to train physical education teachers and athletic coaches.

"The purpose of a college or university—of any school for that matter—is to teach activities useful in life," says Dr. S. C. Staley, director of the School of Physical Education. "A good life includes leisure. We help educate for that by teaching golf, or tennis, or skating, or swimming."

A recent survey showed that tennis is the most popular course, followed by softball and skating, bowling and golf.

New Dean Appointed For U. of I. Dentistry

Dr. Howard M. Marjerson, dean of Tufts college dental school, Medford, Mass., has been named dean of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry. He will take over the office September 1 from Dean Frederick B. Noyes, who is retiring.

Dean Noyes has headed the college since 1920 and been on the university staff since 1914. The College of Dentistry was organized in 1905 from a department created in 1901 in the College of Medicine.

In 1938 the college moved into new quarters in the new 15-story tower section of the university's Medical and Dental laboratories building in Chicago. This new building is regarded as the finest dental college structure in the world.

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

INVISIBLE ENEMIES FROM OVERSEAS

Invasion of America by enemies so tiny that they are totally invisible to the naked eye is far from a remote menace, according to information gained from veterinarians and live stock sanitary authorities.

Every veterinarian who practices in the United States and every inspector at our American ports maintains a year round vigilance against introduction of foreign live stock and poultry plagues. Several times, foot and mouth disease, the most economically dangerous of all live stock diseases, has jumped the barriers into this country and created havoc. Rinderpest or tropical cat plague, a virus-borne disease listed as one of the most deadly contagions in many foreign countries has never gained a foothold in America. On the other hand African Anaplasmosis, a malaria-like disease of cattle, is wide spread in some Western and Southwestern states. An outbreak of European fowl pest was stamped out a few years ago only by quick detection and stringent federal and state quarantine measures.

Contagious pleuropneumonia of cattle, once a costly plague in our Eastern states, has been completely eradicated but still smolders in Australia, Asia and other countries. Dourine, a horse disease much like human syphilis, has been completely eradicated.

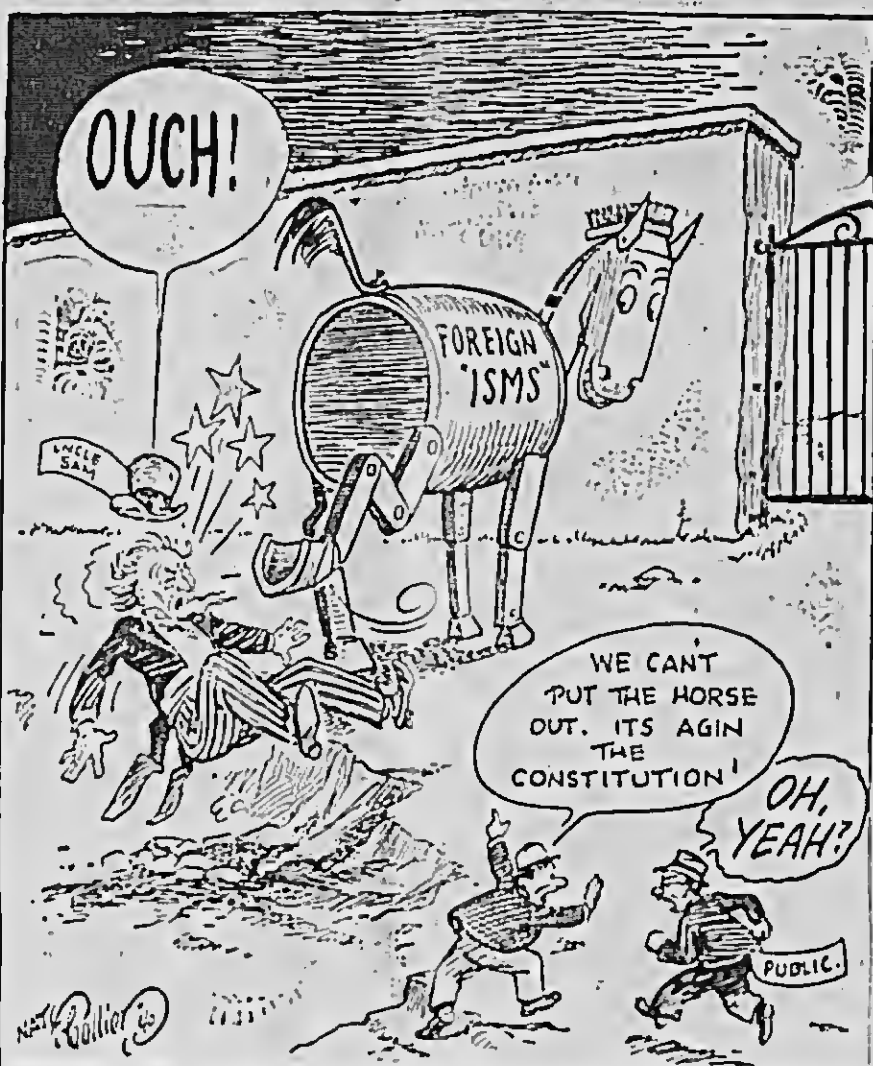

But increased vigilance is more important than ever, for war conditions in many countries mean that live stock contagions will increase greatly. The best barrier against these overseas plagues, which may cost untold millions if they gain a foothold, is thorough cooperation of our farming public with local veterinarians and sanitary authorities. Any suspicious symptoms of illness in live stock should be reported, for only expert veterinary diagnosis can indicate what the disease may be and enable prompt measures to be taken to prevent the spread of the epidemic.

On Sunday (the observance being extended over two days so as to permit those unable to attend on one day to be present on the other), there were again many well wishers present. A four-piece Hawaiian orchestra played Saturday night and a three-piece orchestra supplied music for the dancing Sunday afternoon. The couple received many greetings and tokens of remembrance. Mrs. Roche was honored with gifts of silver tea spoons, a silver-embossed plate and a bouquet of roses. The dancing pavilion was decorated with streamers in red, white and blue, and balloons and favors helped to present a gala scene. A baked ham luncheon was served.
